PROSPECT VISITED

By Marion Anti-Sunday Baseball Workers Monday.

A committee of Marion ministers called upon Mayor Selanders Monday morning and asked that he announce to the good, bad and indifferent, but law abiding citizens of Prospect that if they were caught playing base ball on Sunday they would be summarily arrested and fined.

Mayor Selanders stated that Prospect had no Sunday ball players and that he saw no occasion for such a statement. O. sir; replied they it is for the good of the lawless and ungodly of Marion the great, "heap big" Metropolis on your north, they will take heed and warning from the "writing on the wall" of "the village on our south" and our mission to counsel sworn officers to enforce laws that man has placed upon the status in deference to the teachings of God and his glorification, will be more easy as they will surely listen to such wisdom.

Mayor Selanders has informed the ministers that after due consideration they will have to get along without the help of the "village on our south" as he finds the law against Sunday base ball on his code and subject to enforcement if broken. Prospect Monitor.

MEN SERVED THE SUPPER

While the Ladies Enjoyed the Sight.

THREE HUNDRED PEOPLE

Served at Epworth Church Friday Night.

The Occasion was One of the Most Enjoyable Ever Held—Neat Sum of Money is Realized.

With soldier like precision, with cleanliness that would put many of the women to shame, dressed in the uniform of white aprons and with faces reddened by the heat from the cookstove, forty men hustled-bustled and fumed in the basement of Epworth M. E. church Friday night when they served a supper to more than three hundred people. And it was a picture no artist could paint.

A cynical smile was worn by many of the women who visited the dining room about 6 o'clock when they spotted John, Henry or Billy or what ever their husbands' name happened to be, almost obscured behind an apron and loaded with a tray of dishes. And the wives were quietly thinking "If John would only be so willing at home!" The supper was planned, cooked and served by men and the women all this time kept wondering as to just what kind of an affair it would be. The curiosity of the women was certainly aroused and of the three-hundred and fifty served, perhaps more than two-thirds were women.

Among the kitchen mechanics were to be found some of Marion's most representative men. In the front ranks was to be seen Mayor Louis Scherff who seemed to be just as cool as when sitting in his office examining some miscreant of the law. "Louie" was enjoying it all to and the way in which he handled his tray designated that he surely had some experience in that line.

The royal chef of the occasion was Fred Schaeffer who had led his men with the precision of a general. Mr. Fred Hofstetter and Mr. Frank Foreman were captains of the tray brigade. Elmer Parish had charge of the dining room. Messrs. Frank Owen and T. Mills handled the money and all cash bearing tainted marks was refused.

The supper was served by the members of Longbun and Clark's Sunday school classes. The kitchen help was composed of the following aggregation—Messrs. Charles Griswell, Geo. McKinley, E. C. Smith, Milton Bain, H. Kling, Dr. A. C. Holland, R. A. Boyd, E. J. Stanley, J. Morey, Clifford Piling, Elias Weaver, Charles Schaeffer, Al. Garfield, Robert Partlow, E. R. Finley, D. A. Terry, Frank Bents, Phillip Hofstetter, and Rev. D. H. Bailey.

The sum of $20 was realized on the supper and will be turned over to the general church fund. However the object of the affair was not to make money but was planned on a purely social idea.

REPAIRS UNDER WAY AT COURT HOUSE

Cause of Mysterious Leak at Last is Discovered.

Tin Sheeting Under Big Bell Badly Perforated and is Being Replaced by Copper Plates.

The new cable to be used in winding up the court house bell has not yet arrived, and the big county time piece is still silent. Sherman Dixon and John Haines, custodians of the court house, state that the rotting of the cable was due to the fact that the sheet of tin beneath the bell has been leaking for several years, causing water to course down the cable continually. The effect of the water was to rot the strands in the cable.

The custodians of the building also believe that the perforations in the tin beneath the big bell has been the cause of a number of mysterious leaks which occurred during the past year. Water came through the freezing in both of these rooms and although an investigation was made at the time, the cause of the leaks could not be ascertained. Several days ago Dixon and Haines made an investigation and found the tin beneath the bell badly perforated. Mechanics are now at work removing the tin and replacing it with copper. This change, it is thought, will prevent any leaks in the future.

Dance tonight in Schwinger's hall.

NEW BOARDER WORKED FAST

Got Away with Gold Watch and $20.

WAS SO VERY SLEEPY

And Needed Just a Few Hours of Sweet Repose.

Boys with Floater Rifles are Making Much Trouble for the Local Telephone Company.

As a result of the confidence placed in an unknown man who applied for room and board at her home, Mrs. Alice Rhinehart, of Lewis street, and two of the boarders at the house, are out a gold watch and chain and $20.

A well dressed young man appeared at the Rhinehart home yesterday morning and applied for room and board. Mrs. Rhinehart told him that all of her rooms were full and she could not take any more in. He insisted, however, and would not take a negative answer to his requests. The woman finally allowed him to go to an up stairs room occupied by two boarders. The man agreed to pay her a small amount for allowing him to sleep there for several hours. He said he was worn out from a long trip and needed the rest badly.

As soon as he was alone in the room he commenced to explore around and ransacked the trunks and the bureau and rifled the pockets of the clothes that were left in the room. Two hours later he went down stairs and asked permission to use the telephone. The landlady had the Bell phone in the house and he wanted the Citizen's phone so he told her that he would go out and find a store with that telephone in it. The message was important and he would have to hurry. Citizens' telephones in that vicinity must be rather scarce for he has not yet reappeared.

Late in the afternoon when the man did not return Mrs. Rhinehart investigated and discovered the amount of valuables taken by the pretended roomer.

The matter was reported to the police who made an investigation. It was learned that a man answering the description furnished by the woman had boarded an Erie freight train about noon. Telephone messages were sent to Kenton and other surrounding cities but have not so far resulted in the arrest of the sly stranger.

The game is an old one that is often tried and the police are surprised that it was so successfully worked here.

A drunken man, looking for the house of a relative who lives near the corner of West Church and Prairie streets caused a burglar scare about 11 o'clock last night. A telephone message to police headquarters and another one to the Union Station brought four officers onto the scene within a few minutes but by that time the boy with the jag had found the right house and the neighborhood was quiet.

Boys with Floater rifles are causing the telephone companies no small amount of trouble on certain sections of Davids street and the police have been asked to take a hand in the matter. The boys have been shooting and breaking the telephone wires and damaging the cables. The practice, it seems, is general over the city and a great
